CHARLOTTE DUNAGAN & THOMAS DIVERIO

Known for her discerning eye and global flair, interior designer Charlotte Dunagan began her formal arts training at the MGM School of Design in Nice, France and completed her education at the Art Institute of Fort Lauderdale. She founded her firm in 2002. "Ninety-five percent of what we do is houses from the ground up, working with the architect," Dunagan explains. "That's how we made our niche in this industry. And it crosses over, so we're involved with exterior finishes, pool, driveway—every aspect of the project."

Thomas Diverio joined Charlotte Dunagan's firm 6 years ago and became partners 2 years ago. He graduated from the esteemed University of Miami School of Architecture. As partner and design manager at Dunagan Diverio Design Group, he successfully spearheads all the major design concepts for every project. "A home must consist of an interior and exterior that are integrated and create a cohesive design that tells a story that is not only timeless," Diverio says, "but also elegant and functional."
